

TORNADO AND EXTREME TEMPERATURE SHELTERS

It should be the responsibility of all building owners who conduct government, private, public business in Buffalo County to identify locations within their facilities as designated shelter areas.

The employees of all facilities (public, private, governmental, schools, care facilities, etc.) should be briefed on the internal emergency sheltering procedures. Signs should be posted to direct persons to the shelter areas within the facility.

The county or municipal Public Safety Office or the Buffalo County Emergency Management may provide assistance to establish individual building emergency plans and identify the safest areas for shelter.

Below is a list of possible public and privately owed buildings that have been identified as protective shelters if open and operational at the time of need.

Shelters are verbal agreements with local businesses for temporary shelters to get out of immediate danger
